Mr. Irteza Ali Qureshi
Chief Financial Officer

It is with great pleasure and pride that I present to you this special annual issue of CSR News. We at OGDCL have proven that it is possible to be profitable, while being socially responsible. That we dedicate a fair share of our finances towards social uplift of the underprivileged population across the country, especially in our areas of operations, is evidenced by the fact that we have won the top philanthropy award of Pakistan, The PCP Award for the second time running. This special annual issue will inform you about the various initiatives we have taken and also about recurring projects, which we follow up very diligently in our focus areas. Our special focus is Education and Health because we believe that these are basic needs and investment in these areas will go a long way in socio-economic uplift of not only the local communities we serve but also of the country at large.

EDITORIAL

We have always been taught that good deeds never go unrewarded. We are experiencing this first hand. In our efforts to do good and raise the standard of living of the underprivileged across the country, the rewards have been immense. From the smiles of the children getting basic education to the glow on the face of the young man who has earned a respectable livelihood after benefitting from our scholarship program – the rewards are priceless and most cherished by us.

At OGDCL it is our utmost priority to undertake CSR initiatives and make them sustainable. Our continued support towards social causes and activities in our CSR focus areas is reflected in this special annual issue. A new dimension that we have added in our CSR Mandate this time is environment angle making our beloved country green.

I would like to thank my CSR team and our communication partners for making this special issue possible. All can now witness what we have achieved throughout the year.

Looking forward to your valuable feedback!

Pakistan has surpassed Ethiopia in water scarcity. In recent years increased global temperatures, erratic rainfall patterns, deforestation, floods and droughts have put the future of our country at stake. This paired with fivefold increase in the population has led to higher demands of fresh water. There are predictions that Pakistan will soon experience water shedding worse than load shedding. If we fail to conserve water Pakistan will run dry by 2025.

Here are a few ways to tackle water crisis

DOMESTIC MEASURES

Use water cautiously in kitchens and bathrooms

Use a mop to clean floors & a wet cloth to wash cars

Water your lawns & gardens at night and use sprinklers instead of a pipe

Store and use rain water for household chores such as cleaning and watering the plants.

AGRICULTURAL MEASURES

Irrigate the fields at night to minimize evaporation

Use sprinkling technique instead of conventional irrigation methods

Cultivate crops with less water requirement in areas with a lower water table

COMMUNITY BASED MEASURES

Construct ponds at local level & increase the water retaining capacity of present ponds

Cover the wells properly & plant trees around them to prevent evaporation

Plant trees in order to reduce global warming & deteriorating rain cycle

Stop deforestation

INDUSTRIAL MEASURES

Employ a water efficiency program

Replace existing equipment with more water efficient equipment

Recycle and reuse water

Educate employees about the importance of using less water

Replace water-cooled equipment with air-cooled equipment

SAVE YOUR FUTURE
SAVE YOUR COUNTRY

CONSERVE WATER

EACH DROP COUNTS

Among all the looming challenges that Pakistan is facing, water crisis is the most critical problem of the country. According to the world resource institute, the country is among the leading five that face extremely high water scarcity and low access to safe drinking water and sanitation and country would possibly run dry by 2025.

All commercial buildings will find cost effective benefits in RAINWATER HARVESTING. Any building with a large square foot roof, and high demand for non-potable water, is a top priority candidate for RAINWATER HARVESTING.

In some commercial circumstances more than half of the water used each day can be replaced with rainwater. This amount includes flushing toilets, laundry, gardening, irrigation and vehicle washes. Where the majority of use is for industrial process or cooling water the savings would be even greater.

Collective efforts for rainwater harvesting, even in irrigated areas by individual farmers at their farms, can bring a revolution in livelihood in this country, along with a solution to the groundwater recharge for future use

I have a dream to become a Business woman. When I was in Matric in Quetta, I heard about IBA Karachi. At that moment I decided to come to IBA, I took BTHP Test, and I qualified for two months training program. I got a lot of knowledge in math, grammar, and communication here. I will make my dream come true by working hard. "Success seems to be connected with action. Successful people keep moving. They make mistakes, but they don't quit." I am thankful to IBA Team, I have confidence just because of IBA Team, Faculty, and Mentors for grooming us.

Life is full of struggles. Every individual has to put their best in a way to achieve their goals. Like others I too have been through dire times and exertions. However after coming into IBA, I got a proper path to destiny. IBA is an additional beauty to the so known as the largest city by population of Pakistan, Karachi. Every one here is extremely pampered as a single body under its very preamble, "Leadership and Ideas for Tomorrow". For me IBA is an awareness to glance at the outside world, as what it really is. Outside world is not, what it looks like, for sure its very tough. Anyway IBA instill skills, how to handle when the going gets tough. I am highly obliged to KPK-THP Sponsor, the OGDCL for providing me with an opportunity to quality education. I extend my profound gratitude to IBA Faculty, mentors and THP officials, all of whom played an inviting role in enhancing my communication skills, social behavior and overall grooming. Lastly, my gratefulness to Dr. Zeenat Ismail, Directorate THP.

"When opportunity knocks at your door, always be willing to take a chance, because you never know how perfect something could turn out to be"

To be honest, I never dreamt of coming to IBA; you see, I have few friends at IBA, pursuing their degrees and living their dreams, but I never had the guts to even dream to study at IBA because deep down I knew that my parents can never afford it. But things changed one day; hearing about Balochistan Talent Hunt Program and knowing that it is the best chance for me to experience the life at IBA, I thought I should apply and fortunately I got selected. On the very first day, I realized why IBA is considered as one of the best institutes in Pakistan. It's not only architecturally beautiful but the faculty members and THP staff are so supportive that you never feel homesick, and above all, IBA not only accentuates on academics but also on professional grooming. Days passed in the blink of an eye and I made some very beautiful memories here at IBA. Thanks to Talent Hunt Program for giving such a life changing opportunity to the students of Pakistan.

People go to the far corners of the skies and galaxies, they have discovered the moon and stars because they are distinct with common traits of courage and passion which I also possess. I am the person full of universe installed with strength and self-motivation, but people know only a part of me, just because of deprivation of opportunities'. However, IBA-THP- program provided the platform to show up my all strength of speech and has let me be 'ME'. My personality has been groomed so much in this period. It will always be a memorable experience of interaction with different people on the stage of THP -IBA which was thought to be for elite class only. Thanks to all, who made it memorable and special thanks to my all comrades -made with specific and beautiful details. Now, I can make dreams come true due to the tireless efforts of THP-team.
